Turf Distributor Sponsored Training

Training brought to you by industry experts

“Hosting training at our facility is a great way to connect with our customers and is another way we build good relationships with them. We host training at our facility to ensure our customers are up-to-date on how to operate the systems and products, especially central control and smart controllers.

*Joe Jackson
Sprinkler Supply Company*

Hosting a customized training event is the convenient way to provide the best irrigation training for your customers. You can help them and your team save time by improving their knowledge and use of best practices.

Each training event is customized to your needs using professionally developed materials delivered by industry-recognized experts. Our training never includes a sales pitch for Rain Bird products.
